Hon. A. P. Williams, the new California Senator, has been visiting Fairfield. A large and enthusiastic procession of citizens headed by the Fairfield band, serenaded him one evening recently. On being introduced to the people he made a concise and graceful speech, handsomely returning thanks for this testimonial of esteem, and delating his affection for his native soil, unabated even by his pride in and devotion to his adopted State. The Senator was warmly cheered, and at the conclusion of his remarks the procession filed through the house, and grasped Mr. Williams' houd. The Senator made a very agreeable impression and is exceedingly popular in Fairfield.

The higher of these, called on Hubbard's map by the A young man named Alvin Cole, of Cambridge, while mowing last week, ran into a bumble bee's nest, and while trying to exterminate them, he ran backwards into the last water and the conference of the week and the last water and the conference of the week and the last water and the conference of the week and the week slightly concave top, marked by a slide, and a very distinct white spot.

Though not the highest of the group, the view from it is not surpassed by that from any of the others, some very attractive portions of landscape being visible from it, which are hidden from them by Katahdin. The mountains on the east side of the stream, with the Abol Mountain, rise from the same base; as Katahdin. With the northern end of the latter they nearly enclose a great level space, damp and mossy, which must be almost 3000 feet above the sea. It is covered with a small black growth, and a small stream one of the branches of the Wassataquoik,

[Krom the Army and Navy Register.]

Secretary Whitney has determined to include in the rist of new cruisers for which proposals are to be invited the large uniquored cruiser authorized by the bill bessed two weeks ago to increase the navalentablishment, and has directed that for this vessel, the plans prepared by Chief Constructor White, of England, for the ship-known as "Number 37" be used. It see plans contemplate a vessel of greater nower and sneed than any cruiser now It see plans contemplate a vessel of great-er power and speed than any cruiser now affast—in fact, the very highest powered versel of the kind in the world at the time of completion. The principal dimensions bithe vessel are as follows: Length over all 355 feet; beam extreme; 48 feet 8 ir thes; traff mean, 19 feet 6 inches; load d s blacement; 4.413 tons; cres power. if these trait near, 19 feet 6 riches; load of shacement; 4.413 tons; trse power, 10.500; forced combustion; twin screws; est mated speed 19 knots. The ship has two military masts; no sail power except sit rm sails; coal capacity about 900 tons. The complement of men is 320. The main bastery consists of four eight-inch and six strinch, breech-loading rifles; secondary in tery, eight 57 mm single shot Hotchkiss 2018, two 37 mm revolver anachine guns and one short Gatling. The full will be constructed of steel throughout, with deble bottom running the entire length of the machinery space, or 150 feet.

Independence So-Called [Lowell Courier.[

If there is anything on which Mr. Geo. William Curtis prides himself it is his independence as a journalist. But this, like his personal political independence, is a misnomer and a pretence. It is well au-thenticated that when Mr. Curtis went home from the Chicage convention in June, 1884, he wrote an ed torial in which he supported Mr. Blaine for President. But when the head of the house employing Mr. Curtis, ongry, it is sail, because the Harpers were not selected as Mr. Blame's book publishers, informed Mr. Curtis that Harper's Weekly must oppose Blaine. the editorial was destroyed, and an anti-Blaine one was written to take its place. Which was the honest expression of Mr. Curtis opinion we do not know. Both, however, could not be, and in writing both Mr. Curtis showed that his editorial opinions were n sale.
Since that time Harver's Weekly has em ployed I r. Curtis pen to t laster equivocal ompliments on Mr. Cleveland. We say "equivocal," because when a man de in one person d. bucy whit he condones or commends in another it cannot be safe to consider as serious anything he may assert. Thus, in the Weekly for August 7, Mr. Cur is las an article on Congress, in which he mentions among the measures concerning which that boly has gone wrong, and about which "the Repub-Democras."—"the confessed extravagan—a party issue, and in a recent speech at ces of the River—and. Harbor bill," and Lakeside. O., she said: "I am opposed to ces of the River and Harbor bill," and "the passage of the Oleomargarine bill." Now the President approved both these bills, and with one of them he took the extraordinary and superfluous course of sending a special message which contained an absolute falsehood, and in which he suggester even more stringency than the bill itself contained.

If the Republicans and Democrats in Congress who voted for these two bills were "du i," what can be said of the President who gave them that approvid which made laws of them? But the fandenend ent" Mr. Durtis, who, under the risk of losing his place, has to play editorial tunes to please Mr. Harper, de nounces. Congress for passing such bills, while in the same nrticle he asserts that the President who approved them "has not forfeited the confidence of the public," and that his official career has continued to "attest his honesty, courage and sympachy with reform."

We not do that a pure with a familiar We worder that a men with a reputation to maintain should be willing to so openly advertise his willingness to write down in the same article the same action as black it, one man and white in another But it shows how atterly silly are all these pretentions to independence. Mr. Curtis writes these sentiments which those who hire him demand, and it is at the expense of both independence and honesty.

A Faithful Organ. [New York Tilbrine.]

When Mr. Hedden was appointed Collector of the port the Evening Post was almost the only journal in this town that had anything to say in favor of the President. It admitted that the selection of an unknown men was not perhaps the best possible choice, but it contended that the President must have had good reasons for making the appointment, and consequently that friends of "reform" must accept it as wise act, although they might not be be able to understand it. There was a good runaway started on Fourteenth street, Sunday. A horse attached to a road wagon, which was occupied by Wm. F. Higgins and another young man; became frightened and run, overturning the veh cle and throwing the occupants to the ground. He then continued along the street, and finally took to the fields, occasionally passing into a Ba street until he reached West Broadway He then run the length of th s street, and finally, after passing down several others, stopped at Brown's stable. The animal was quite hadly hur, and the wagon broken, un considerably.

ARRIVAL OF A STEAM YACHT. | The steam yacht Marion owned in Salemand which has been craising slowly along the coast since she left Boston arrived in port yesterday afternoon. She left a party at Fort Point and there were but seven on board when she arrived here including her captain and owner Mr. King Upton, Mr. this morning with President Arthur Sewall Frank Barker and Mr. Joseph A. Dane. Her owner left on the evening train for a visit to Salem for a day/or two. The vacht will remain here until to-morrow receiving slight repairs after which the cruise will be continued and all points of interest along the coast visited.

Wicket Oven Door with Pedal Attachment and Perfect Ventulation Secured with Fresl Air from Ontside.

These valuable improvements can be applied to all Reyal Clarion Ranges.

The Pedal is so arranged that the oven door can be thrown open with a slight touch of the foot, saving the use of hand or holder (as the door knobs are always hot). The Wicket Boor is made to drop, and forms a shelf (as seen in the above cut). This Wicket Boor will be found useful in the process of beking or roasting to open and see how the work is being done without defineent to the article being cooked, and in roasting basing can be done without cooling the oven to any preceptible degree. The ventilation at the top of the oven door, in connection with the oven ventilation at the top of side of oven, as applied to our Royal Clarion, makes a completely ventilated oven, and for practical use the most perfect baking oven known to man. This product in of 1883, with our many improvements, make the Royal Clarion Ranges the most desirable ever put upon the market.
